

4 And on all other nights, we can sit as we please, on our heads, on our elbows, our backs or our knees, or hang by our toes from the tail of a Glump, or on top of a Camel with one or two humps, with our foot on the table, our nose on the floor, with one ear in the window and one out the door, doing somersaults over the greasy knishes or dancing a jig without breaking the dishes.
On all other nights, you must sit nicely when dining, so why on this night must it all be reclining?

Thank you for joining our Seder.
See you next year in Jerusalem!

THE FOUR QUERRIES AND HUCK LENUOT BERRIES

Dr. Seuss on The Haggadah
The Four Questions

Why is it only on Passover night, we never know how to do anything right?

We don't eat our meals
in the regular ways, the ways that we do
on all other days.

1 On all other nights, you would probably flip if anyone asked you how often you dip.

On some days I only dip one Bup-Bup egg in a teaspoon of vinegar mixed with nutmeg, but sometimes we take more than ten thousand tails of the Yakkity birds that are hunted in Wales, and dip them in vats full of Mumbegum juice, and then feed them to Harold, our six legged moose.

Or we don't dip at all, we don't ask your advice;
So why on this night do we have to dip twice?

2 On all other nights, we may eat all kinds of wonderful bready treats, like big purple pizza that tastes like a pickle, crumbly crackers and pink pumpernickel, assafras sandwich and tiger on rye, fifty falafels in pita, fresh fried, with peanut butter and tangerine sauce spread onto each side, up and down, then across, and toasted whole wheat bread with liver and ducks, and crumpets and dumplings and bagels and lox, and doughnuts with one hole and doughnuts with four,

and cake with six layers and windows and doors.
On all other nights, we eat all kinds of bread, but tonight of all nights, we munch matzah instead.

3 And on all other nights we devour vegetables, green things, and bushes and flowers, lettuce that's leafy and candy striped spinach, fresh silly celery; have more when you're finished.

Cabbage that's flown from the jungles of Glome by a polka dot bird who can't find his way home, daisies and roses and inside-out grass, and artichoke hearts that are simply first class.
Sixty asparagus tips served in glasses with anchovy sauce and some sticky molasses.
But on Passover night, you would never consider eating a herb that wasn't all bitter.
